Redakcja

Dear Readers,

It is with great pleasure that we present volume XIV of Notae Numismaticae – Zapiski Numizmatyczne to you. In accordance with the principles that we have adopted, our texts are published in the conference languages with English and Polish abstracts. The Polish-language versions of the texts that are more relevant to the interests of the Polish reader can be found as PDFs on the website of the National Museum in Krakow (<https://mnk.pl/notae-numismaticae-zapiski-numizmatyczne-1>). Similarly, the whole of the present volume is available online, as are previously published volumes of the journal. The website also contains general information about the journal as well as information for prospective authors and reviewers.

Prof. Dr. Hab. Stefan Skowronek (1928–2019), the doyen of Polish numismatics, died on June 11, 2019, at the age of 91. For many years, he worked as an employee – and then as head – of the Numismatic Cabinet at the National Museum of Krakow. He was also a lecturer and employee of the Pedagogical University of Krakow, a lecturer at the Jagiellonian University, and a member of numerous scientific societies and organizations, having honorary membership status at the Krakow branch of the Numismatic Section of the Polish Academy of Sciences' Commission on Archaeology.

It is to his enduring memory that we dedicate volume XIV of Notae Numismaticae – Zapiski Numizmatyczne, a journal that he helped to support as both an author and as a member of the Scientific Committee.

Nálezy Mincí na Slovensku / Coin Finds in Slovakia. V/1. Archeologický Ústav SAV Historické múzeum SNM, Bratislava–Nitra 2018, 260 pages; ISBN 978-80-8196-026-0

The first part of the fifth volume of Nálezy Mincí na Slovensku / Coin Finds in Slovakia, is the most recent work by Marek Budaj, from the Slovak National Museum in Bratislava, and Ján Hunka, from the Institute of Archaeology of the Slovakian Academy of Sciences. This work is a continuation of the project that was begun at the end of the 1950s, the first volume of which was published by V. Ondrouch in 1964. This first volume of the catalogue presented coins of Celtic, Greek, Roman, and Byzantine origin that were discovered in the lands of present-day Slovakia. The second volume, which focused on medieval and early modern coins, was published in 1968. The third volume, which was published in 1978, contained, in addition, a detailed examination of the coins. Further finds discovered between 1978 and 1994 were catalogued in the fourth volume of Nálezy Mincí na Slovensku / Coin Finds in Slovakia. Finally, after 24 years, we have Marek Budaj and Ján Hunka's work. This publication is the first part of the fifth volume, which, due to the sheer number of finds, the authors decided to divide into two catalogues: one with the coins struck up until 1526 and the other with those that were struck afterwards.

The work, which numbers 260 pages, consists of a preface in English and Slovak, a list of abbreviations, a bibliography, the catalogue itself, addenda and corrigenda to volumes I–IV, a list of the examined finds, and indices. The catalogue was divided chronologically into finds of Greek, Celtic, Roman, and Byzantine coins, as well as medieval pennies (from the 6th century to 1300) and groschen (from 1300 to 1526). Thanks to the indices, it is possible to search for words and phrases like find spot, the circumstances in which the coin was found, issuers (states as well as rulers), mints, denominations, as well as the collections in which the coins from a given assemblage appear.

The catalogue contains 720 finds, that is, about 10,000 coins, tokens, and medals. Among these finds there is 1 Greek coin, 133 Celtic coin finds, 24 Roman Republic coins, 173 coins from the Roman Empire, 19 Byzantine coins, 129 medieval pennies, and 240 finds of groschen.

Each record contains the find spot, the context, the composition of the find, information about the find – both as recorded orally and through writing – the date of issue (not that of the find), the catalogue number, related publications, and the initials of the person who compiled the given record. Naturally, we are also provided with information about whether each coin was found individually or as part of a hoard. Wherever possible, additional information is also provided (for example, the issuer, the mint, the denomination, the metal used, etc.). No information is given, however, with respect to the diameter, the weight, or the axis of the coins.

The finds are also organized chronologically by age, starting with the oldest coin discovered in a given area. Thus, a single coin of Trajan discovered in Vlková and struck between 98 and 117 is placed between a hoard from Ostrovany with coins from between 97 and 354 and denarii from Selce that were struck between 98 and 195. As a result, the catalogue seems less accessible, less intuitive, and it becomes necessary to make ample use of the index.

Moreover, the catalogue's table of contents suggests that all of the information is in two languages. While the foreword is in both Slovak and English, which makes it much easier to understand the development of the project titled Coin Finds in Slovakia, the catalogue itself is entirely in Slovak, which makes it difficult for speakers of other languages to understand the information concerning the context and the circumstances in which the coins were found, not to mention the other information that is available.

The authors emphasize the fact that they took into account single finds in addition to finds of hoards. They also indicate that new types of Celtic and medieval coins appear in their catalogue. Moreover, they are right to point out that the work can be used for comparative studies with numismatic material located in neighboring regions.

In summary, the first part of the fifth volume of Nálezy Mincí na Slovensku / Coin Finds in Slovakia is the complete catalogue of the coins found in Slovakia between 1994 and 2018. It will certainly be a useful tool when it comes to conducting research on the history of Slovakia from Celtic times to the 16th century; the work will not only be of particular use for archaeologists, but also for historians, collectors, and archivists.
